

Negative heat-map values indicate increasing risk or miscoverage as similarity decreases. Threshold partitions are sensitivity analyses, not universal chemical-domain rules.